

Bol – Island Brač excursion August 27th, 2014

Bol, the town on the southern side of the Island Brač is a very famous Croatian holiday destination. The biggest Bol's attraction is Zlatni rat beach (Golden Cape), pebble beach that stretches 500 meters into the sea and changes direction of its top under the influence of the strong sea currents. Zlatni rat is a unique geological phenomenon dating back to 1 million years ago. Bol with its surrounding area is abound with many beaches, as well as private coves.

Bol has a favourite destination for surfers from various parts of Europe and the world. The sea channel between the islands of Brač and Hvar, and the wind that blows there, provide ideal conditions for windsurfing. In Bol and on the Island of Brač, there are many roads for bike driving. In sport centres it is possible to rent a bike or a mountain bike, Kite boarding centre enables kite launching on a beach specially dedicated to kite boarding. In the surrounding of the unique beach Zlatni rat, visitors can enjoy self-peddalling boats, gondolas, kayaks, etc. Water-ski fans will be enjoying themselves as well. Adrenaline enthusiasts will try crazy rides on bananas and rubber rings, while the bravest ones can enjoy the jet-skis. A ride with a parachute (parasailing) which is being dragged by a speed-boat will let you enjoy the view from the air. You will surely enjoy one day leisure excursion.

Plenty of cafes, clubs, restaurants offer pleasure and delicious food during the whole day.
