FOURTH ANNOUNCEMENT

Dear Colleagues:

The organizers of the First Adriatic Symposium on Biophysical Approaches in Biomedical Studies have the following news:

ABSTRACT DEADLINE EXTENDED (AGAIN): Our publisher has allowed us to extend the deadline for abstract submission. The final deadline is June 15, 2014, however, if you wish for your abstract to be considered for short oral presentation, then we must receive it by June 1. Acceptance notifications will be emailed in the first week of June. For your convenience, the link to the abstract submission information is: <http://first-adriatic-symposium-babs.com/index.php/dates-and-deadlines/abstracts>.

EARLY BIRD REGISTRATION EXTENDED: We understand that some people have not registered because they are waiting for acceptance of their abstract. Therefore we have also extended the early bird registration deadline to June 15. It is essential for all attendees to register, so be sure to take advantage of the lowest rates. The Registration form may be downloaded from <http://first-adriatic-symposium-babs.com/index.php/dates-and-deadlines/registration>.

Meanwhile, check the Symposium website (<http://first-adriatic-symposium-babs.com/>) for the most up-to-date scientific program, and other important details.

The First Adriatic Symposium on Biophysical Approaches in Biomedical Studies is the perfect forum to learn, share and foster collaborations. We look forward to welcoming you to an educational and enjoyable symposium this August in Split!
